SYMBOLISM
Shield: The bald eagle, a traditional symbol of American strength and vigilance, carries an olive branch in his right talon, symbolizing the worldwide goal of peaceful operations in space. In his left talon is a cluster of thirteen arrows with the silver delta as arrowheads, indicative of the strength and power necessary to protect our citizens and allies. The delta symbol is historically associated with space and represents change and innovation, and the cluster of deltoids thrusting upward into space signifies our ever growing aspirations in space beyond earth orbit. The blue globe with silver land masses, as viewed from space, signifies the origin and control point for all space assets and represents the global operations of the command in mission areas such as surveillance, navigation, communications and missile warning. The silver and white Polaris signifies our constant presence and vigilance in space now and in the future. Encompassing the globe are two white elliptical orbits representing the unity of U.S. Space Command with our joint and combined partners, and which intersect over the United States, the terrestrial heart of the command. An arc of four silver stars above the eagle symbolizes the four-star combatant commander of U.S. Space Command. The black background represents the infinity of space.

Seal: The coat of arms as blazoned in full color on a black disk, bearing the night sky, enclosed by a silver border, and inscribed "UNITED STATES" above and "SPACE COMMAND" below, all silver.

527 <h2>Organization and Subordinate Commands</h2>
528
529 USSPACECOM has two subordinate commands: Combined Force Space Component Command
(CFSCC) and Joint Task Force Space Defense (JTF-SD).
530
531 CFSCC plans, integrates, conducts, and assesses global space operations in order to deliver combat relevant space capabilities to Combatant Commanders, Coalition partners, the Joint Force, and the Nation. 532
533 JTF-SD conducts, in unified action with mission partners, space superiority operations to deter aggression, defend U.S. and Allied interests, and defeat adversaries throughout the continuum of conflict. 534
535 USSPACECOM is comprised of military members, civilian employees, and contractor personnel. The final size of the command is being determined through a detailed manpower analysis. 536
537 USSPACECOM will finalize conditions-based criteria for reaching initial operational capability and full operational capability. Achieving these states is dependent upon ensuring the command has the right capabilities in place to fully accomplish its mission.
